As is usual with troop trains the coaches were well filled and when the three cars tumbled through the trestle and injured were entangled in a twisted mass of wrockage, making it difficult to remove the dead bodies or rescue the linjured. Because of the confusion, due largely to poor wire communication it was impossible to-night to ascertain how many of the injured were expected to die or who they were. The first report of the wreck sent the War Department was that twelve had been killed, but soon after it was sent other bodies were found. Case Will Be Taken Up Formally at Once by Authorities.

MAY REACH FINAL DECISION TO-DAY

Commissioner Caminetti Refuses to Be Rushed Into Action, but Will Do All in His Power to Facilitate Determination as to Release or Deportation of Militant.

President Will Take Hand in Deciding Case

Washington, October 19.—The President of the United States is to take a hand in deciding the question of whether Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant sufragette of England, shall be admitted to this country.

President Wilson to-night called a conference for early to-morrow with Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Labor, and Commissioner-General Caminetti, of the Inmigration Bureau. High government officials, who are believed to know the attitude of the President, predicted that Mrs. Pankhurst would be admitted. Though the statutes give the immigration commissioner final authority in immigration cases, Presidents hitherto have indicated the construction they desired placed on such cases.

In view of the early conference. In view of the early conference at the White House, the formal pro-ceedings in the case will be post-poned from 9 o'clock until later in the morning.

Washington, October 19 .- Immigration Commissioner Caminetti to-day declined to release Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, British militant suffragist, on bond from Ellis Island immigration station, N. Y., pending final adjudication of her appeal from the deportation order issue yesterday by a special board of inquiry. Her case will be taken up formally to-morrow morning by Commissioner Caminetti, and it it said a definite decision on her release or deportation may be reached during the day.

Commissioner Caminetti said to day that his desire was "not to be rushed into a decision of a case nationally and internationally important," but that he had done and would do all in his power to facilitate its determination. Unprecedented efforts finally to dispose of the case were made by the immigration officials, and they suc-ceeded practically in "clearing the decks" for positive action to-morrow

The commissioner in acinetti and Dr. A. W. Parker, chief day, said his only reason was to facili-His tate as much as possible this proceeding.

The question as to whether Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted or de-ported was a subject of absorbing interest to many in government circles. It became known to-night that a great many high officials favored admitting her, not because of any sympathy for the individual or her cause, but on the ground that the principle of free speech should be maintained.

Attorneys for Mrs. Pankhurst di-rected their efforts to-day chiefly toward obtaining her temporary release from custody at Ellis Island, pending consideration of the case, in order that she might fulfil lecture contracts. contended that not only Mrs. Pankhurst's personal rights were bethan was absolutely necessary, but that important and substantial property rights of the alien and of citizens of this country were being placed in Jeopardy. Will Not Be Rushed.

Commissioner Caminetti promptly made it clear, however, that he could not be rushed into a decision because of the money involved in Mrs. Pankhurst's engagements. That, he said, was entirely aside from the real issue, i. e. whether the British militant was entitled under the law to enter the United States. He refused for this reason to hear Frank S. O'Nell, as counsel for the management of Madison Square Garden, New York, where Mrs. Pankhurst is advertised to speak to-morrow night. Mr. O'Neil then entered an appearance as a represen-

Just before the hearing began there came by special delivery mail the official record of the proceedings before the Board of Special Inquiry, at New York.
